Developments

Equity markets were mixed in June, but have rebounded nicely with most indices now in positive territory for the year (S&P 500 +2.7%). Fixed income returns were down slightly in June, and are solidly negative year-to-date, with the Bloomberg Barclays US Intermediate Treasury Index down -0.7% and the Bloomberg Barclays US Aggregate Bond Index down -1.6%.

SSI's Investment Grade Convertible Strategy has outperformed most stock and bond indices this year, though it is behind the ICE BofA ML Investment Grade Convertible Index (V0S1). The Strategy declined in June as there was a significant shift in market leadership, which led to a pullback in some of the best performing convertibles. This short term price action seems to have been driven more by market sentiment than any meaningful fundamental change. As they have done historically, convertibles performed well as interest rates rose and volatility increased during the first half of the year.

The outlook for convertibles remains favorable, with strong earnings growth and a solid economic backdrop keeping our view positive on equities. In addition, credit markets have been relatively stable, with spreads in a trading range since moving higher in February and March. Given the economic backdrop, we do not expect significant spread widening in the foreseeable future. New issuance has been very strong ($35.4 billion year-to-date), which is a positive indicator of overall health in the convertible market. Geopolitical concerns continue to pose challenges, with tariffs and trade issues now at the forefront.

The Composite & Benchmark

The SSI Investment Grade Convertible Strategy began January 1, 1999 while the composite was created September 1, 2013 when SSI modified its Investment Grade composite by adding two more Investment Grade composites to properly address the clients varying investment guidelines. Accounts are now in a composite that reflects their investment guidelines. The SSI Investment Grade Convertible Strategy invests in investment grade and up to 25% non-investment grade convertible securities. The composite contains fully discretionary accounts including those no longer with the firm. The composite may include accounts invested in investment grade convertible preferred shares up to generally 25% of the portfolio. SSI believes a performance comparison versus the BofA Merrill Lynch Investment Grade Convertible Bond Index ("V0S1") is appropriate. The V0S1 measures all Investment Grade US Convertible bonds (as stated by BoA ML). SSI may not hold all convertibles in the V0S1 and may also hold convertibles that are not included in the V0S1. The Strategy may be less diversified than the V0S1. The volatility of this strategy may be greater than the volatility of the V0S1 as the strategy may hold a smaller number of positions than the Index, may include investment grade convertible preferred securities, and non-investment grade convertible securities. The return, if any, above the V0S1 is dependent upon SSI's discretionary management. Any other indices shown are not necessarily comparable to SSI's Investment Grade Convertible Strategy. These are widely recognized market indices that are shown for informational purposes only. The composite name was formally known as SSI Outright Investment Grade Convertible Strategy from 1/1/1999 – 3/31/2016 and on 4/1/2016 the new composite name became the SSI Investment Grade Convertible Strategy.

Investment Management Fees

Returns are presented gross and net of management fee. Actual results of an individual account may be materially different from the performance shown herein because of differences in inception date, transaction and related costs, restrictions, fees and other factors. All performance is based in U.S. dollars and reflect, on a percentage basis for each of the periods indicated: (a) the net increase (decrease) of all SSI Investment Grade Convertible Strategy portfolios, dollar-weighted, including adjustments for unrealized gains and losses, the reinvestment of dividends and other earnings, the deduction of investment costs except any separate custodial or related fees, time-weighted to adjust for additions and withdrawals, and (b) the net increase (decrease) of the V0S1.

Net performance is reduced by SSI's actual investment management fees. Gross performance does not include deduction of SSI's investment management fees.

If performance is gross of management fees, client's actual return will be reduced by the management fees and any other expenses which may be incurred in the management of an investment advisory account. See SSI's Form ADV, Part 2A for a complete description of the investment advisory fees customarily charged by SSI. As an example, an account with an initial $1,000,000 investment on January 1, 2003, earning a recurring 5% semi-annual gross return (10.25% annualized), and paying a .5% semi-annual management fee (1% annual fee) would have grown to $1,340,096 on a gross of fees basis and $1,300,392 on a net of fees basis by December 31, 2005 (3 years).
