Developments

June was a strong month for the financial markets as the S&P 500 rose 7.05%. A more accommodative stance by the Federal Reserve and a trade “truce” with China contributed to the favorable environment. Credit markets were also strong as spreads narrowed substantially, more than offsetting the widening seen in May. Volatility, as measured by the VIX Index, also retraced to more benign levels, finishing the month near 15. Interest rates continued to decline, leading to a 1.26% return for the Bloomberg Barclays US Aggregate Bond Index.

Against this backdrop, SSI’s Flexible Allocation Strategy had a strong month, rising approximately 4.42% (gross of fee). This brings the gain for the Strategy to approximately 12.27% (gross of fee) for the first half of 2019. The return was ahead of the Tactical Allocation Morningstar peer group and slightly below the 60/40 Index<sup>2</sup>. SSI’s Tactical Asset Allocation (TAA) model became more positive during the month, and went from neutral to positive on the prospects for equities. Equity investment levels have been increased and are above the benchmark. Among the factors contributing to the model’s more positive signal are an improvement in market trend and a more accommodative stance by the Federal Reserve. As always, we are actively monitoring the key variables impacting the markets and are prepared to make adjustments to the portfolio as the environment changes.

The Composite & Benchmark

SSI's Flexible Allocation Strategy (composite created May 1, 2009) invests in a portfolio primarily of Exchange Traded Funds but may include Exchange Traded Notes and other Mutual Funds. The exposure to various asset classes including, but not limited to, equity, fixed income and cash may range from 0-100%. The composite contains fully discretionary accounts including those no longer with the firm. SSI believes a performance comparison versus the Balanced Index is appropriate. Prior August 1st, 2015, the Balanced Index was 50% of the total return of the S&P 500 and 50% of the 90-Day Treasury Bill ("Balanced Index"). Subsequent to August 1st, 2015, the Balanced Index will be 60% of the total return of the S&P 500 and 40% of the Barclays Aggregate Bond Index. Portfolios in this composite may have asset allocations that are different from the allocation of the Balanced Index. These allocations may generally range from 60% equities & 40% Barclays Aggregate to 75% equities & 25% Barclays Aggregate. The volatility of this strategy may be greater than the Balanced Index due to changes in asset allocation. The return, if any, is dependent upon SSI's discretionary management. The Barclays Aggregate Bond Index is made up of government securities, mortgage-backed securities, asset-backed securities and corporate securities to simulate the universe of bonds in the market and the maturities of the bonds in the index are more than one year. Any other indices shown are not necessarily comparable to SSI's Flexible Allocation Strategy. These are widely recognized market indices that are shown for informational purposes only. Investors should be aware that individuals cannot invest directly in any index, and index performance does not include transaction costs or other fees, which will affect actual investment performance. The composite name was formally known as SSI Flexible Equity Strategy from 5/1/2009 – 4/30/2015 and on 5/1/2015 the new composite name became the SSI Flexible Allocation Strategy. Benchmark rebalancing frequency: monthly.

Investment Management Fees

Returns are presented gross and net of management fee. Actual results of an individual account may be materially different from the performance shown herein because of differences in inception date, transaction and related costs, restrictions, fees and other factors. All performance is based in U.S. dollars and reflect, on a percentage basis for each of the periods indicated: the actual net increase (decrease) of all SSI Flexible Equity Strategy portfolios, dollar-weighted, including adjustments for unrealized gains and losses, the reinvestment of dividends and other earnings, the deduction of some investment costs, the deduction of mutual fund costs, and are time-weighted to adjust for additions and withdrawals, and (b) the net increase (decrease) of the Balanced Index.

Net performance is reduced by SSI's actual investment management fees and model fees (2011-2012). 1% annual fee is used for any model fees. Gross performance does not include deduction of SSI's investment management fees.

If performance is gross of management fees, client's actual return will be reduced by the management fees and any other expenses which may be incurred in the management of an investment advisory account. See SSI's Form ADV, Part 2A for a complete description of the investment advisory fees customarily charged by SSI. As an example, an account with an initial $1,000,000 investment on January 1, 2003, earning a recurring 5% semi-annual gross return (10.25% annualized), and paying a .5% semi-annual management fee (1% annual fee) would have grown to $1,340,096 on a gross of fees basis and $1,300,392 on a net of fees basis by December 31, 2005 (3 years).
